THE GENEROUS PUBLISHER

When a newspaper gives you a lot of free advertising in order to boom some show, concert or entertainment in which you are interested, keep track of the lines that are printed week by week and multiply that number by the regular advertising rates of the paper. Compare the results with the actual money value of any favor that you get from any other business concern. Then take into consideration the fact that advertising and circulation are the only two things that a newspaper has to sell. Now, in these days of higher prices, how much do you think it ought to give away?—Ste. Genevieve Herald.

A minister in a small town, who probably had the usual difficulty in getting his salary after he had worked hard to earn it, just before making a change to another field addresses his congregation as follows:

"Dear friends, you don't love me because you don't pay my salary. You don't love me another because there are no weddings and God does not want you because nobody does. Now brethren, I have been appointed Chaplain of the penitentiary in this state and this will be my last Sunday among you. I will preach from the text, 'I Go to Prepare a Place for You,' after which the choir will sing, 'Meet Me There.'—Exchange.

Don't judge a man by the clothes he wears. God made one and the tailor made the other. Don't judge a man by his family, for Cain belonged to a good family. Don't judge a man by his failure in life, for many a man fails because he is too honest to succeed. Don't judge a man by the house he lives in, for the lizard and the rat often inhabit the grander structure. When a man dies they who survive him ask what property he left behind, but the angel who bends over the dying man asks what good deeds he sent before him, and whether he lived a righteous or ungodly life.—Exchange.

We are in receipt of a few packages of Kellogg's "Krumbles," "Wheat Biscuit" and "Corn Flakes" for trial purposes, in order that we might have first hand and actual knowledge of the value of them as an article of food and thus be enabled to verify and attest the truthfulness of the claims set out in their advertisements of them found in this and succeeding issues of The Times. Must say that every claim made is absolutely true, in fact scarcely covers the merits of these as Breakfast Food. The quality is superior, the quantity liberal and the taste delicious. Try a package and be convinced. "The proof of the pudding is in the eating." At your grocer's.

Hon. M. E. Rhodes of Potosi passed through here Monday on his way to St. Louis on business. Mr. Rhodes will, it is reported, be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in this district next year.—De-Soto Press.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Wm. Murphy, who died in New Mexico Monday night, was a brother to Mrs. W. C. Eaves of our city. He was born at the Hopkins place about a mile from here in 1836, where he was reared, and later lived at Blumark where he was Post Master several years, moving from there to New Mexico, where he died.

Mr. Murphy preceded in death a brother, R. A. Murphy of Knob Lick; two sisters, Mrs. W. C. Eaves of Farmington and Mrs. Bettie McMichael of St. James, Mo.; three sons, Millard, Rufus and George, and one daughter, Mrs. Lulu Smith, of Texas. The sad news of his death casts a halo of gloom amidst friends and relatives here and attests once again the fallibility of man.

Mr. Murphy was a most prominent and conspicuous resident of his neighborhood in New Mexico, where he lived several years, and he will be largely missed among his circle of friends there where he had exerted an influence in the commercial and social spheres of his vicinity.

The Times extends sympathy to the many sad and sorrowing friends and relatives in this trying hour of sadness and grief.

INSURANCE AT LOWEST COST

It goes without saying that you want to save money on insurance as well as anything else. This can surely be done in the Missouri Mutual Insurance Co.'s of Rock Port.

In the department insuring buildings and contents there was no assessment last year, the policyholders thus not having one cent to pay.

In the department insuring automobiles, insurance has been furnished for one third of the old line rate.

In the tornado company (the oldest company of the kind in the state) there has been no assessment since April 1, 1913, and only thirteen assessments in twenty-five years.

In the hail insurance company, which insures crops of growing grain against loss or damage by hailstorm, there has been no assessment in seven years.

Can these records for insurance at low cost be beaten?

Agents for these companies are doing a good business, but more agents are wanted—in every town in Missouri where the companies are not already represented. For agencies write.

H. F. STAPEL, Secretary,
Rock Port, Mo.

Emotions Expressed in Dancing. In the Vedas of the Hindus, some of which date back 6,000 years before Christ, there is steady reference to dancing as an expression of triumph, worship, and even the deepest grief. It is the same in the Zendavestas of the Persians. Dancing with cymbals and tambourines, with bells tied to their ankles and wrists or around their waists, was an art that the priestesses in the temples must understand.

CHESTNUT RIDGE AND ROUTE THREE

Last Monday Mr. Luther Powell received a telegram from his brother, Clark Powell, of Colorado, conveying the sad intelligence that his little daughter, Lorine, was dead and would be brought to Farmington Wednesday at 12:30 p. m. for burial. Little Lorine was 2 years and 4 months old and the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Powell. The bereaved parents certainly have the sympathy of their old friends and neighbors on Route 3.

Mrs. Madkins, mother of Mrs. Anna Hawk, left for Colorado the first of the week. We certainly are sorry to give her up. She will be greatly missed in this neighborhood.

Miss Ruth Hawk graduated at the Moothart Business College last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Porter and children, Mary, Clara and Mattie, and Grandma Porter spent last Sunday and Monday in Doe Run, the guest of their sister, Mrs. Leo Bonzo.

Mrs. Robert Wigger of Flat River visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bowling, the first of the week.

Mrs. Lucy Wampler spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wigger.

TALK OF "MINORITY PARTY"

Real Truth of the Situation That Confronts the Opponents of the Democracy.

If stand-pat or progressive Republicans can find, as they pretend to do, any comfort in the fact that in Maine this year, as was the case in the country-at-large two years ago, the Democrats are "in a minority," no one should begrudge it to them.

Minority parties have a habit of doing important things in this world, and it is not necessary, we suppose, to cite instances. The point in relation to the American political situation which was of commanding importance in 1912, which is revealed again this year in Maine and which promises to exercise a powerful influence upon our public affairs for some time to come, is that there are more Democrats than Republicans and more Democrats than Progressives, and that combination against the Democrats is not possible.

If those who rule the destinies of Republicanism and Progressivism are sure that the Democrats are a minority party, why do they not combine? Is there an Aldrich or a Penrose who thinks that he could gain the Progressive vote as against a Wilson Democrat? Is there a Roosevelt or a Beveridge who imagines that he could poll the venal regular Republican vote against a decent Democrat of any type?

There are two Republican parties hating each other more fiercely than they hate Democrats. We shall never know just what the Democratic majority in the United States amounts to until we have a nominal fusion of all Republicans against the Democrats.

NO TRIBUTE TO THE TRUST

Sugar Barons Will Vainly Appeal for What They Consider Sufficient "Protection."

The sugar barons are taking advantage of present conditions, not only to reap momentary harvest, but to press their campaign for a sugar tariff which will so stimulate domestic production that all the sugar used in the United States will be "produced at home."

In 1912, the last calendar year for which complete figures are available, the United States used 3,504,182 tons of sugar. Of this huge quantity, 257,194 tons was Louisiana cane sugar, 516,851 tons was domestic beet sugar, 526,281 was cane sugar from Hawaii, and 7,000 tons was maple sugar—a total sugar production in the United States and its Hawaiian territory of 1,307,326 tons, or just a little more than one-third of what the country used.

If even Aldrich schedules could not boost domestic production further than this, how much "protection" would it take to cause all our sugar to be grown at home?

Probably a duty which would keep prices at or above this present war level, say ten cents per pound, retail. Try to imagine the American housewife voting to pay such prices for sugar for the rest of his natural life, and you will have some idea of the problem now confronting the sweetening trust.

Secretary Bryan's Diplomacy.

Under Secretary Bryan the State department is not taken seriously by the American people. If it is a joke for them, could it be anything better for foreign governments and peoples?

—New York Press.

The tens of thousands of American refugees who have been brought home from Europe, after having been cared for and watched over and provided with funds, do not think that the State department under Secretary Bryan is a joke. Most of them are grateful for the prompt and energetic efforts of the State department to afford them relief in time of great emergency. The European nations at war, which have committed to the care of the State department under Secretary Bryan their interests in the enemies' country, do not treat our Washington diplomacy as a joke. They have all entrusted to the State department the duties they are unable to perform for themselves. It is a poor time for Americans to sneer at their national government.

Record of Achievement.

It is to be hoped that the people of the United States may not become so absorbed in events across the ocean or in domestic problems resulting therefrom as to cause them to neglect what the present Democratic congress has achieved.

No one need contend that it has not made mistakes. It has, but after all mistakes are admitted the record stands out clearly enough to show that in the matter of achievement it has been the most remarkable congress that has assembled in half a century, and that the dominant party is entitled, by reason of its record, to a generous indorsement at the hands of the people.

Entitled to Country's Approval.

The country has not yet been enabled to enjoy the benefits of the federal reserve bank system, but it has the indorsement of all leading financiers and bankers and none doubts that it will meet in all respects the anticipations of President Wilson. This achievement of itself would have been sufficient to entitle the Democratic administration and congress to the country's approval. The importance of it is in nowise impaired because it has not been possible to put the system into operation sooner.
